

Jan Blaine

Senior Director of Development

Jan Blaine joined the University of Georgia College of Engineering in May 2018. Previously, he served as the assistant director of development for Mississippi State University's Bagley College of Engineering. Prior to his work in development, he was a regional sales representative at Steel Dynamics.

Blaine is a native of Starkville, Mississippi. He earned a BS in sports communication, a BBA in business and an MBA, all from Mississippi State. He and his wife Elizabeth have four children, Knox, Beau, Charlotte and Laurel, and now call Bishop, Georgia home.